ELLINWOOD:

Little League Dads Complete Grandstand for Season Opener

By JANET ROBINSON
FR 5-7063
Dottie Frey has been a very energetic hostess this past week Saturday evening the Freys entertained several neighborhood couples at a Trippoli party in their home and Tuesday afternoon Doroty invited all the little Misses in the block to Dottie Joe's 8th birthday party. Each guest was served individually birthday cakes with pink decorations and ice cream in the covered patio. After the presents were opened they all enjoyed playing with the new toys. During the afternoon all the guests fished for prizes in the fish pond. Those attending the party were: Karen Santo, Leslie Uden, Christine Udy Zandra Peusich, Kathy Forrester, Nancy Rogers, Theresa Doudna, and Karen Williams. Dottie Joe's little brother Pat also joined in the festivities.

Last Friday evening nine members of the Accel! Theater group attended the Community Play House in Long Beach where they saw a performance of "The Tender Trap" put on by the Long Beach Community Players. Charles and Helen Hackbusch attended from Ellinwood and were very interested in the center's plans of the play. The Community Playhouse is one of the most outstanding little theaters in Southern California—very modern with the center stage and seats elevated around it. They also have a coffee bar and serve to all patrons during intermission.

Congratulations are due to the fathers and friends of the Pacific Coast Little League who worked so hard to meet the deadline for the opening game. They certainly succeeded. Cleaning off the debris and dirt from the field was a huge job in itself, but they went one better and built the grandstands this year and then even enclosed them to keep the wind off the spectators. The games are being played as scheduled now and don't forget, there is a concession stand where you can get coffee, hot dogs, pop, and candy.

Mrs. Ruby Mounts, of 4809

Green Meadows, and all of her block workers deserve a big pat on the back for their fine work on the recent American Cancer drive here in Ellinwood. Our efforts were combined with Hollywood Riviera's and together the area took in a combined total of $800!

Lucy Peusich had a gathering of friends in her home last Wednesday and entertained them with games and charades. The party initiated Lucy's lovely new drapes and the beautiful big den with oodles of drawer space, closets and storage room they have added to the rear of their home. Three sides of the den are lined in Philippine mahogany and the fourth in all glass overlooking their patio. Those enjoying the evening were Mary Wilhem, Marilyn Forrester, Merla Wilson, Agnes Rogers, Janet Robinson, Ruth Manchester, Doris Udy, Helen Hackbusch, Jeanne Bowman, and Dorothy Frey.

If you have any interesting news don't hesitate to pick up the phone and call. We especially need news from the west section of Ellinwood. Our former contact, Billie Pease, who tried to keep us posted on the happenings has moved away. How about it?

Greenthumbers Women, Children Stage Breakfast at Rahn Home

By VIOLA KLUG

A correction of the awards of the Torrance flower show. It was the Greenthumbers' exhibit of the patio setting that took second award in the non-competitive class. Also, Barbara Yackit's name was omitted from the articles. She took second prize in children from 8 to 15. Her mother is a member of Beau Jardin Garden Club.

Cub Scouts of Pack 960-C wish to announce their carnival at El Retiro Park Saturday from 1 to 5 p.m. There will be popcorn, hot dogs, cold drinks, booths and prizes.

Peggy and Ed Viskocel, of 5714 Clearside, wish to announce the arrival of Kenneth Edward on May 2 at Torrance Memorial Hospital, weighing in at 8 lbs. 11 ozs. He has come to keep Kathy and David company. The proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Taylor of Arlington Heights, Ill. and Mrs. Anna Marek of Chicago, Illinois.

It's another grandson for us, born in Cleveland, O., April 28.

On May 4 the Greenthumbers' Garden Club held a kidnap breakfast at the home of Pat Rahn, 5622 Sunnyview, with Helen Rahn assisting. Among those present were Martha Koltick and her two children, Dolly Mategorin and her two youngsters, Josephine Fitzgerald, Florence Barrow, Maude Vulgamott, Betty Fitzgerald and her four children, Barbara Kosick and Sue Ann, Martha Knight and her child, Gelet Rahn and Ida Handley each with one child, Allen Shepherd and Dorothy Solls with three youngsters, Bess Selmeier and Pat Rahn with two children. There were three guests, Margaret Corey, Dawn Wilhelm and Barbara Kosick. Coffee, doughnuts and sweet rolls were served. It was hard to break away and put our minds on the duties at home waiting for us.

Mrs. Maude Vulgamott entertained her sister, Mrs. Sue Whalen, and a friend, Mrs. Jessica Hartfield, of San Francisco, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barrow of Clearside St., are entertaining their nephew, George Kordik, of Chicago, who expects to settle out here.

Viola Klug, Bea Miller, Marge Yackit and Kay Welliver were delegates representing Seaside E. and R. Church Women's Guild at the South Bay Council of Churches' luncheon and business meeting held recently at Redondo. We had a delicious luncheon, an interesting meeting, and a fine program.

The first annual mother-daughter tea and fashion show sponsored by the Woman's Guild of the Seaside E. and R. Church was held at the church Saturday. The tables had green tablecloths with appliqued tulips in the corner. At each place was an orchid flower in a basket. The models included Susan Aldred, Leana Knop, Kathy Sue Schriefer, Kathleen Terry, Sue Burt, Georgene Hollowell, Lois Martin, Vi Schriefer, Carol Welliver and Kay Welliver. They all did a wonderful job. Merlin Aldred, Erv Pauling, Rev. Richard Miller, Jack Moss Jr. and Roger Schriefer served. The toastmistress was Dorothy Hollowell, while community singing, a song by Marion Terry and her three daughters, and a novelty act by Georgene and Judy Hollowell followed. The committee wishes to thank the merchants who donated the many door prizes.

Don't forget our potluck supper and Family Night to be held at the church May 18 at 6 p.m. We always have a good time on these nights and, if you are a stranger in our midst, come and get acquainted. The church is located at 250th St. and Ocean Ave.

A speedy recovery is wished to the Elliott youngsters who have chickenpox; the Clyde Martin youngsters, who have mumps; and Mrs. Earl Welliver who is suffering with a blood clot on her leg.

Earl Welliver Jr. has come home for summer vacation from San Diego State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Elliot, of Vancouver, Wash., and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robertson, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Al Kosick, 5714 Palos Verdes Blvd., last Saturday. Mrs. Kosick's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. David Shepherd, were also guests. Mr. and Mrs. Elliot are the great-aunt and uncle of Mrs. Kosick and Mr. Shepherd. The two families from Vancouver are making an extended tour of California.

The old neighbors of Sandra Holscher, formerly of Rockview who now lives in Redondo, held a stork shower for her at the home of Justine Keller, 5551 Rockview, recently. Ice cream, cake and coffee were enjoyed by all. Among those present were Ruth Oldaker, Martin Indell, Clara Williams, Amanda Van Der Woode, Barbara Scott, Justine David, Betty Pease, Jennie Patterson and Genevieve Comer. Not able to be present, but sending gifts, were Paula Houbacek, Carol Lewis and Rose Patterson.

The Al Yackit family, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moss Jr., spent Sunday at San Diego. After a picnic at Balboa Park they attended a dress parade at the Brown Military Academy.

Southwest Manuscribers, a South Bay organization with established and novice writers members, were advised "Don't be afraid to express emotion in your story," by Harriet Paul, top flight short story writer, who was the featured speaker at the Manuscribers' recent meeting.

She further suggested that if the writers write with restraint, that first of all they should have something to restrain, thus avoiding the risk of achieving only dullness.

Reports of material written by members being accepted for publication included the sale of a short fantasy to "Escapade," by Maurice Ogden; a TV script by Frank Byrnes to "Family Film"; poems to "Schlimmer" and Matt Weinstein's column by Vance Price; and a Merit Award from the Colorado Quarterly for a short story by Phoebe McCullough Thompson.
